Information concerning copyright in periodicals

When To Use Form B. Form B is appropriate for published issues of periodicals which have been manufactured in the United States.

What Is a "Periodical"? Speaking broadly, the term "periodical" refers to works published at regular intervals of less than a year under the same general title. The most common examples include newspapers, magazines, reviews, bulletins, proceedings of societies, and similar works which would be registered as second-class matter at the Post Office. The term "periodical" does not include publications issued at irregular intervals or at intervals of a year or more; such works should generally be registered as "books" on Form A.

No "Blanket" Copyright. There is no such thing as a "blanket" copyright which would protect the general idea or format of a periodical, or a series of issues as a whole. Each issue of a periodical is a separate subject for copyright, and the copyright claims in each issue must be registered separately.

No Copyright in Titles. The title of a periodical cannot be copyrighted. Copyright in an issue covers the copyrightable contents of that issue, but does not extend to the title or name under which the periodical is published. Titles of periodicals can sometimes be registered as trademarks at the Patent Office, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C., 20231.

Duration of Copyright. Statutory copyright in a particular issue of a periodical lasts for 28 years from the date of first publication of that issue, and may be renewed for a second 28-year term.

How to secure statutory copyright in a periodical

First: Produce Copies of the Issue With Copyright Notice. Produce the issue in copies by printing or other means of reproduction. To secure copyright, it is essential that the copies bear a copyright notice in the required form and position, as explained below.

Second: Publish the Issue With Copyright Notice. The copyright law defines the "date of publication" as "... the earliest date when copies ... were placed on sale, sold, or publicly distributed."

Third: Register Your Copyright Claim. Promptly after publication, mail to the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington, D.C., 20540, two copies of the issue as published with notice, an application on Form B, properly completed and signed, and a fee of $6. (NOTE: A deposit account, against which fees can be drawn, may be established. For details write to the Copyright Office.)

The Copyright Notice. The copyright notice for periodicals shall appear on the title page of the issue, on the first page of text, or under the title heading. It shall consist of the word "Copyright," the abbreviation "Copr.," or the symbol ©, accompanied by the name of the copyright owner and the year date of publication. For example: © John Doe 1966. Use of the symbol © may result in securing copyright in countries which are parties to the Universal Copyright Convention.

NOTE: It is the act of publication with notice that actually secures copyright protection. If copies of an issue are published without the required notice, the right to secure copyright in that issue is lost and cannot be restored.
